Telephone Service Is Being Enlarged

The program of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, for the enlargement of Wilmington's service, is well along, according to a statement of the Lowell District Manager, Mr. Elliot Jackson, yesterday.

All summer, workmen were busy in the central exchange, on Church Street, and on August 29th the preliminary work had been completed. Control facilities for the enlarged service was installed, complete, at that time.

Since that time, the company has been installing cable, and telephones, into Wilmington homes.

During the month of September and October, approximately 220 new phones were added to the Wilmington exchange. A backlog of about 460 phones was thus reduced. The company was surprised to note that quite a few persons who had been asking for better service cancelled their request, at the time when the new phones could be installed.

The next step, which has been authorized, and will proceed thruout the winter, is the installation of new cables into the North and East parts of Wilmington. In that area there are five new housing developments, and the Telephone Company expects these developments to continue to expand. The cost of these new cables will be about $33,000, according to Jackson and the project should be completed in the spring of 1953. There are, at this time, 74 requests for telephones in this part of town, and another 54 requests for betterment of service, for telephones allready installed. These telephones are gradually installed, as the cables are laid out, according to Jackson. He did not describe it as a project that would be instantly completed, but rather one that would have new phones installed as the lines were extended, in what Jackson termed a "trickle."

Also scheduled, but not yet approved, is a similar service for people living in the West and the Southern part of the town. This will be of similar scope, and should start sometime early in 1953, to be completed in the latter part of the year.

There are, at the present time, about 200 requests, in total, for telephones, or better telephone service, according to Jackson, and when these two projects are completed, there should be no difficulty in extending service to all parts of town.

THE SCHOOL BUS SYSTEM

Last summer the School Committee signed a contract with McIntyre Bus Lines. This contract was to run for three years, and, as far as we know, was the first three year contract ever to be signed for Wilmington schools, for bus transportation of school children.

As a result, McIntyre has purchased large 55 passenger buses, for use in Wilmington. They can afford to make the investment because they know that they will have a use for the buses. We now have two 55 passenger buses running, and a third one is expected after Christmas. There will be two 35 passenger buses running on the short hauls, with the larger buses making the long trips. The cost to the taxpayer will be the same—$25 a day.

It is a definite improvement.

In addition to the physical improvement, the deportment of the children has improved. This, however, is because of a different reason.

A school bus, the country over, is a place for horseplay, on the part of the passengers. Many of us can recall the funny, yet pathetic cartoon, on the cover of the Saturday Evening Post not too long ago, depicting a school bus driver's worries.

Wilmington's School Authorities have "cracked down" on horseplay. Any child who rides in a bus is told that it is a privilige, to be lost if he behaves badly, and this is as it should be.

At the present writing, there are four boys who are walking to school, because they could not behave properly, in a school bus. They will continue to walk for an indefinite period, until the authorities are satisfied that they will behave. So far this year, 16 children have lost their bus priviliges, for varying length of time.

Deportment in buses has improved tremendously. It is just as well, too. We can recall reading of "accidents" in nearby towns, one involving a child's death, which presumably were caused by horseplay in school buses.

WILMINGTON'S MD'S COOPERATE ON DIABETES

This is National Diabetes Week. Throughout the land, Physicians everywhere are cooperating, to discover persons who, as the saying is "are a little too sweet."

Diabetes is a disease in which the body is unable to consume sugar. Many persons know that they have the disease, and with proper care, thanks to modern science, they will be able to live normal useful lives. Other persons do not suspect that they have become diabetic, and it is these persons that the doctors are now trying to discover—to help them help themselves, before it is too late.

Diabetes may be detected by testing the urine of a suspected person. Many persons have their urine tested as a matter of course, at stated intervals. It is a part of the examination that a person takes, when applying for life insurance.

Other persons have never availed themselves of an opportunity to take a test.

For the remainder of the week, all four of Wilmington's doctors have agreed to give free tests, to persons who would like to know whether or not they have diabetes.

It is simple, from the patient's viewpoint. Simply leave a few drops of urine in the doctors office, in a clean bottle. After 48 hours a telephone call to the office will appraise the person of the results. None of the doctors will mail an announcement as to the findings, but a telephone call is not hard to make.

Do you know for sure that you are not a diabetic?

THE TEACHER'S CLUB OPEN HOUSE

The Teacher's Club of Wilmington had open house, in the High School Cafeteria, last Wednesday. They turned out, in full force. They provided refreshments, and a good speaker. They were ready and willing to talk over the problems of parents, with children in Wilmington Schools.

After the speaker had finished, a count was made of the persons present who were not teachers, in other words—guests.

There were exactly 15!

Without doubt the members of the Teacher's Club were chagrined, at such a small turnout, and well might they be.

There is, however, another way of looking at it.

Quite often, a well attended meeting is well attended only because those present have a grievance. In other words, well attended meetings quite often mean that someone is looking for a chance to pick a fight, "to pick over a bone," as the saying is.

We offer this to our Wilmington Teachers. If no one came to your meeting the people of Wilmington, obviously, are well satisfied with your services.

THE POT AND THE KETTLE

Last fall this Commonwealth was rocked by a scandal from Beacon Hill, which involved the Supplementary Budget, and Pensions for Legislators and others.

Democrats and Republicans had a wonderful time calling each other black. The Governor of the Commonwealth, a Democrat, failed of re-election. Many good Democrats refused to vote for him.

It was not only Democrats who were to blame, however. Many Republicans cannot dodge responsibility. In the Senate were 40 men, 22 of whom were Republicans. Neither of the bills could possibly have become law, without the active or passive help of these men.

Senator Richard Furbush, a Republican, was President of the Senate. His right hand man was Assistant Floor Leader, Senator Charles Innis, another Republican. Because of their positions they bear just as much responsibility as does the Governor, or any other official of the Commonwealth.

We do not know what arguments these men used, to get themselves re-elected, but, being re-elected we should think that they would be content to let well enough alone.

Instead, they are now actively campaigning for re-election to their former posts of President of the Senate, and Assistant Floor Leader, and this in spite of the tradition that a person serves only one term as President of the Senate!

Other Republicans resent this move, and are trying to block it. Furbush has a good lead, and the dissident Republicans are going to have a tough uphill fight. The result will be known on January 7th., when the Senate meets to organize.

Senator George Evans, of Wakefield, representing this town, is a leader in the dissident group. We back Senator Evans in his fight.

The Kettle, in this case, is as black, as was the Pot.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I have been receiving the Crusared every week since my dad gave you my name and address. I have been meaning to write to you and thank you for sending it to me but my wife had a new baby almost two months ago and has been keeping me busy preparing for it and twice as busy now that it is here.

I think it is a very good idea sending the Crusader to the boys every week, especially the boys that don't get a chance to come home all the time. The mail service overseas (especially in Korea) is very poor but I know that any mail from home such as the Crusader is really a moral builder.

I wish to thank you and all those who make it possible for me to receive the Crusader each week.

I hope to see all the gang when I get home next June. That will be for good, I hope.

WILMINGTON ROTARIANS OFFER REFUGE

Wilmington Rotarians, at their weekly luncheon today, offered to visiting Reading Rotarians a chance to forget their worries and relax in Rotarian Fellowship.

The so-called "Reign of Terror" which has afflicted Reading since the Porter murders, has not been unnoticed by the Wilmington club.

Conspicuous, near the desk of the Sargeant at Arms, during todays luncheon was a basket, bearing a sign which read "Reading Rotarians, Check Your Pistols Here!"

THE DEER CHECKING STATIONS IN N. H.

Again this year Deer Checking Stations will be spaced at strategic locations throughout New Hampshire. These stations, operated on each weekend of the season, are established to keep check on the condition of New Hampshire's deer herd. Last year over 1,400 hunters brought in deer from 187 towns of the state to establish an all time high for hunter cooperations.

At these stations trained biologists are on hand to weigh and age your deer in a matter of minutes. There is no charge for this service and you receive an attested copy of these official records. Every deer is important whether it be a buck or doe, large or small, as they all combine to make up a true picture of our herd.

Most important is the collection of female reproductive organs. Every hunter who bags a doe is urged to carefully remove and bring in the reproductive tract.

Last year 176 complete sets of reproductive organs were analyzed with the following results. Percent of pregnancy in the herd according to age class was: one half year old does - 26.9 percent. One, one half year old does - 92.0 percent. Two, one half to 9, one half year old does - 98.8 percent.

The reproduction rate for pregnana does averaged: 1.23 fawns per one half year old doe. 1.57 fawns per 1 one half year old doe. 1.94 fawns per 2 one half to 9 one half year old doe.

These figures indicate that New Hampshire deer as a whole have a reproductive capacity on a par with the best in the country.

More reproductive organs from all over the state are needed to serve as a basis for future management poplicies. Fliers which explain the method of removing these organs are available at all checking stations.

Checking Stations will be open each weekend of the season.

TELEVISION NEWS

BY JACK MOORE

DEAR JACK:

I recently had trouble with my antenna, that is I think it was my antenna. We had a lot of trouble with our set, the picture would flop over, the cars going by caused the picture to waver and the sound was not equal on both channels. One of my friends looked at my antenna and said that due to its age it had rusted out.

He said the newer antennas are are made so that they won't rust out. He also said that the antenna wire is all bad, with the wire convering in quite a few places rotted off. Do you think that it would be wise to have a new antenna put up, I have never heard of an antenna wearing out.

D.G.H.
Burlington, Mass

Dear D.G.H.

Yes, it is true that antenna do wear out, especially at the high frequencies used in TV. The antenna will oxidize or corrode if it is aluminum and will rust if of other types of metals that have been used in antenna in the past. An antenna has quite a loss after about one or one and one-half years in the weather.This loss is due to a leakage path that developes across the insulator at the antenna connections. The newer type antenna that we have found to be of longer longevity is one made from solid aluminum rods. We use it exlusively. It also has a higher gain than other antenna.

The wire (twin lead) that goes between the antenna and the set deteriorates more rapidly than the antenna. It developes a leakage path across he insulating material, essentially shorting out part of the sigual picked up by the antenna. If your wire is rotted out, it definately should be replaced.

The reason for the jumping of your picture is due to the weak signal you now get because of a defective antenna and wire. The signal fed to the set must be strong enough to over-ride local interference.

UNEXPECTED DOOR SLAM

Henry Porter, Postmaster of Wilmington, took off a part of the Yale Door Check, which prevents the Post Office door from slamming. The door check had to be repaired, which is always a good reason for taking it off.

Very shortly one of the Post-office customers entered, with his customary good spirits, only to hear a crash of glass as the window of the door hit one of tne desks, set up for the convenience of the patrons near the front of the building.

Now Henry has to repair the door window as well.

BIZARRE TELEPHONE CALL

We reported last week that the Wilmington police had chased a "false alarm" telephone call about a murder. There is a bizarre angle, however.

The telephone call was made to a Wilmington home. which had just been purchased from a Reading man. The telephone was still in the name of the last owner, and the number had not been changed.

The lady was surprised to have the telephone ring, on Monday morning, the 10th of November. She answered, and an unknown voice said, "There is a murder being committed at 589 Middlesex Avenue." The speaker then hung up. The lady called the police, who found no murder, nor could they find 589 Middlesex Avenue.

Next day the shocking murder of the Portor family was discovered in Reading, a murder which apparently was committed on the Saturday previous. This led Wilmington and State police to theorize that someone in Reading, with a knowledge of the murder, and called the Reading man, at his Wilmington home, not knowing that the home had been sold.

That angle was thoroughly investigated, and has now been dismissed.

But there is still plenty of material for speculation, inasmuch as Middlesex Avenue, in Reading, is not very far from the spot where the murders occured. No such number as 589, though.

THE NICHOLS ST. BRIDGE

A few weeks ago we were told that the bridge over the Lowell Division tracks of the B&M, at Nichols Street, was to be boarded in within two weeks.

At this writing, it not only has not been boarded in, but some motorist has kindly knocked out a section of the railing which was already there.

TOWN GARAGE RUMOR

A rumor passed around town last week that the Highway Department garage was to be converted into a garage for school buses. We do not know where the rumor started, but there can not be too much foundation for it, at least at present. The School Department has a three year contract with McIntyre, for School Buses and we don't believe that McIntyre wants to house his buses in the Town garage.

THE BUG

For the past 20 days, a number of children have had to stay nome from school for a few days, because of an upset stomach, or colds. We call it the bug. A good many families have been affected.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON SHAWSHEEN AVENUE

An auto accident at the corner of Shawsheen Avenue and Hopkins Street, at 10:25 p.m. November 15th involved a Ford sedan, owned by Betty Ann Roy of 11 Warren Avenue, Nashua, N. H., and driven by Florian S. Dec of 136 Salem Street, North Wilmington, and an Oldsmobile sedan, owned by Lois E. Brown of 1071 Main Street, Reading, and driven by Paul J. Brown of the same address.

According to the police report, Dec was going Northeast on Hopkins Street and Brown was going Southeast on Shawsheen Avenue a tthe time of the collision. No personal injuries were claimed.

The Brown car left under its own power, and the Dec car was towed away.

VETERANS COMPENSATION

Massachusetts veterans who served in the armed forces on and entitled to VA compensation for any of three specific types of disabilities, may be eligible for an automobile or other conveyance at VA expense, Manager William J. Blake of the Boston Regional Office of the Veterans Administration revealed today.

Blake listed the qualifying disabilities as : loss or permanent loss of use of one or both feet; loss or permanent loss of use of one or both hands; or complete loss of sight in both eyes or permanent impairment to vision in both eyes to a point of virtual blindness.

For these veterans, Blake said, VA can pay up to $1,600 towards the purchase price of an automobile or other conveyance, including such equipment with special attachments and devices as VA may deem necessary for each veteran.

Bay State veterans may apply at any VA office for this benefit within three years from October 20, 1951, the date the law was enacted, or three years from the date of their discharge or release from active service when the discharge or release occurs after October 20, 1951.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q—I lost one of my legs in the service during World War II and the VA paid $1,600 toward the car I bought when I got out. I'd like to trade my car now for a new one. Am I entitled to another $1,600?

A—No. The law provides but one grant for each eligible veteran.

The Billerica News
Dear Sir:

May I through the column of your paper thank all of those who in the recent election gave me their vote for State Senator.

I shall return to the Senate with renewed confidence in the desire of the people of Massachusetts to have decent fearless government on Beacon Hill. Under the leadership of Christian A. Herter, Sumner G. Whittier and Charles Gibbons there is once again opportunity for service to all equally and fairly.

I shall strive to be worthy of the confidence that those in the 7th Middlesex Senatorial District have placed in me.

Respectfully yours,
Gearge J. Evans
Senator 7th Middlesex District

D.A.V. IDENTO TAG

There's less chance of your losing your keys during the coming winter months the Disabled American Veterans cheerfully announced today. Chapter 106, Wilmington, Mass., said a report received here from DAV National Headquarters in Cincinnati show that 7,000 persons a month receive their lost keys through the Idento Tag on key rings. The tag carries motorists' individual license numbers and on the back carries an inscription urging finders to place the lost keys in the nearest mail box. The DAV pays the postage and returns the keys without charge. They said 35 million tags are distributed by the DAV each year. The DAV owns and operaates its own tag plant in Cincinnati where disabled veterans manufacture the Idento tags. Funds received as contributions for the tags make possible the DAV nationwide program of free service to disabled veterans, their widows and dependents.

About those lost keys, the DAV has found these tips may be helpful in holding on to them.

1. Check all pockets for holes before placing keys in any of them.
2. Make a habit of keeping your keys in the same pocket.
3. Check your key pocket periodically to make sure you have them.
4. Check your key ring to make sure it isn't defective.

But with a DAV Idento Tag on your key ring and you happen to lose it the odds are 98 percent that you'll get it back.

they gave her to me

". . . and Mommie called the lady . . . and the lady said if I was a good girl I could have one of her kittens . . . and I'm going to name her Fluffy . . . and . . ."

Just another telephone call — one of the thousands over our lines that day. But how important to that little girl's happiness! Actually, every telephone call is important, especially to the person who's calling — whether it's a call for a kitten or a call for help.

THE COST IS SMALL

That's right. And a call for help costs no more than a call to the grocer's. The price is still pennies — despite the fact there are twice as many telephones you can call today as compared to ten years ago, and your service is faster, better, more dependable. Yes, your telephone is one of the outstanding conveniences of our modern way of life.

Some people who have applied for telephone service are still without it because we lack necessary equipment. To correct this situation is one of our major projects.

Some who do have service, however, are inclined to forget or overlook the telephone's real worth. It is only to such users that reference is made here to the ever-increasing value of telephone service.

DOCTOR SHER OF WOBURN ATTENDING LECTURES

Dr. Sidney S. Sher, Woburn Optometrist, is attending lectures in Boston on illumination, which is being presented by the lighting bureau of the Electric Institute of Boston in cooperation with the Illuminating Engineering Society. It is a complete course that covers both theory, calculations and applications. Architects, optometrists and office managers are some of the groups that are attending this series of lectures for which a certificate will be awarded to those who complete the course.

Dr. Sher hopes to acquire by means of this course the most up-to-date information on illumination for schools. This information will be incorporated in a text being written by Dr. Sher entitled "A Visual Program For Schools." With the help of this course, Dr. Sher feels his volume should be completed in 1953.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS SELL MAGAZINES

The students of Wilmington High School are engaged in a collective effort to sell magazine subscriptions, throughout the town. The proceeds of the sales, which is under the guidance of the Student Council, is used entirely for the improvement of the school and activities.

A similar program, last year, paid for a guidance booklet for High School students, put out by the Student Council. This booklet, called the Blue Beacon, helps students understand and know their High School.

Other activities, paid for by the proceeds of last years magazine drive included the provision of refreshments, on Career Day, and on the two occasions in which the Open House was held in Wilmington High School. Pins, for the members of the High School Student's Council, and for the members of the National Honor Society were supplied by this fund, and the High School Student Council also backed other High School Student activities.

All the work, and the decisions involved, are by the Students, and the High School Student Council has the final say, in all matters.

WILMINGTON ON TELEVISION TWICE IN ONE NIGHT

Wilmington hit the Television Jackpot last Wednesday night. The Esso News Program, from WBZ TV featured the Wilmington Schools, on its 6:15 p.m. program. Shown were the Walker School, Junior High School, High School, with classes in session, the Maple Meadow School and a picture of the new school, to be built on Wildwood Street. Many Wilmington personalities were seen, during the program.

Later the same night, Mrs. Pauline Black, of 84 Church Street, appeared on the guest portion of the Television Program, coming from Chicago, on Wednesday night showing the fights. Mrs. Black, who was in Chicago with her husband, on business, announced clearly that she was from Wilmington, Mass., and her friends have been telling her all about it, ever since.

TAX ADS ARE A'COMING

Unpaid taxes, some for 1950, and those for 1951, have yet to be published by the Town Collector. She states that they are to be published in the next week's issue of the Crusader. Those persons who do not wish to see their names in print still have a few more days to get their taxes paid—but time is running short.

T M's COLUMN

The Town Manager has been in conference with a prospective dentist to move into the Town of Wilmington, but this dentist is having difficulty finding either a place to rent temporarily, with the possibility of purchase, or the possibility of purchasing immediately a house near the center of town that would be suitable both for living quarters and office.

School Safety Program in Wilmington

SCHOOL SAFETY PROGRAM

Miss Janet Ballou of Wellesley displays the illuminated shadow box which is part of the unique children's pedestrian safety presentation shown this week to Wilmington grade schools pupils. The demonstation is prepared by the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company to assist in teaching safe pedestrian habits to children of early school age. The program will be presented on Friday at the Walker, Mapple Meadow and the Whitefield schools and on Monday, November 24 at the Silver Lake, West and Center Schools.

Using the shadow box and a colored sound-slide film, Miss Ballou tells the story of a young boy, Peter, and his dog, the Whiffle Hound, who leads his master safely to a birthday party by flashing his eyes red when danger threatens and green when conditions are safe.

During the Wilmington presentation, each child who sees the show receives a colored booklet of "Peter and the Whiffle-Hound." Arrangement for the showing, part of a state-wide series by Liberty Mutual, were made by Larry Cushing of the Wilmington School Department.

WILMINGTON GRANGE ANNUAL TURKEY WHIST

The annual Turkey Whist of the Wilmington Grange will be held in the Grange Hall on November 24th. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

PUP RESCUES HIMSELF

A small dog, thought to belong to William Fitzgibbons, of Middlesex Avenue, fell into a hole, off Middlesex Avenue, on Monday afternoon. Efforts by several boys to rescue the dog were unavailing, and the Wilmington Fire Department was called.

The Fire Laddies responded on their mission of mercy promptly, and just as the truck arrived, the dog gave a leap and got himself out of the hole. He ran off without stopping to thank anyone.
